

The easiest way to track employees

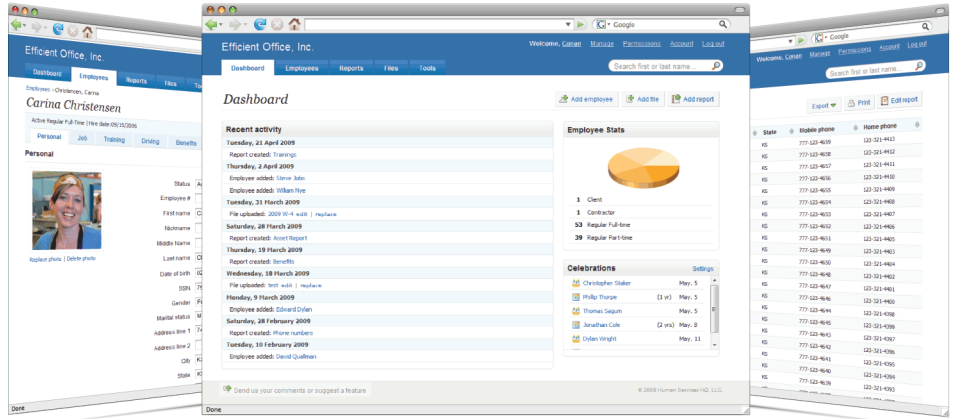

Get things done the simple way and focus on things that matter most

"It's so nice to have all the information in a central location, and with the reports we can extract the information so easily - instead of using multiple spreadsheets to track employee records."

- Tamera Miner, OrangeSoda

"We never have to worry about something crashing, losing data or records, and I don't have to hire some expensive IT guy to do anything for me."

- Cory Crabb, North Eastern Services

A better way

If you find yourself updating multiple spreadsheets and databases, then you've come to the right place. Or if you already have an HR system that is inflexible, difficult to use, or costs an arm and a leg (or all of the above), then it's time for a change.

Designed for you

Whether you're an HR professional or you're simply wearing the HR hat (among many others), your time is precious and you hate wasting it on administrivia. We understand your pain and we know how to fix it.
